

Who The Hell Am I?

By Donna Burfield

I am known as my parents' daughter,
I am known as my husband's wife,
I am known as the Mother of my children,
Whom, I love with my whole life!

I am known as these labels that I have been bestowed,
I am known as only these descriptives,
I am known only by these confining boxes,
But I am so much more than this prescriptive!

I am more than just your label,
I am more than what you see,
I am more than your expectations,
It is time that you saw me!

I am a vivacious, kind, and loving woman,
I am strong, intelligent, and carefree,
I am full of hope, adventure, and creativity,
All this lies hidden in me!

I am going to honour my instincts,
I am going to acknowledge I have a choice,
I am going to pursue my dreams and wishes,
I have to remember I am in control of my inner voice!

In recognition of all those quiet voices out there!

Love and Gratitude,
Donna
